

This image shows a close-up of a textile with a complex, repeating geometric pattern. The design is organized into horizontal bands. At the top, there are solid bands of blue and yellow. Below these is a wide band featuring a repeating pattern of interlocking diamonds and crosses in white and dark blue. This is followed by another yellow band and a band with a series of white triangles pointing downwards on a blue background. The pattern continues with more solid blue and yellow bands, followed by a band with a repeating 'V' or chevron pattern in white and dark blue. Below this is a band with a series of white triangles pointing upwards on a blue background. The pattern repeats with another 'V' band, followed by a final yellow band and a solid blue band at the bottom. The overall effect is one of rhythmic repetition and vibrant color contrast.
